216 Main Street where the old cinema once stood.

Billy the Goat

216 Main Street with new house built in 1986

Hi, my parents live on Main Street (216) where the old cinema once stood, here's a couple of photos my dad took of the house that was there after the cinema before he knocked it down to build the house there now.

He is part of the Gibson and Moore building family.
The photos are about 1986 when my dad bought the place from a man called Don Hardy, that was his goat Billy who he left in the garden. He used to come and feed him every day with his dog named Mush while my dad was building the new house. We moved into the new house in 1989. My parents are Ann and Tony Gibson, they still live there.
He has given permission to add these photos to the digital archive catalogue.
