RK 217

BARLESTON

(Market Bosworth, 3 m. N.E.)

A large, dull village with a church rebuilt and entirely devoid of interest.

CADEBY

(Bosworth, 2½ m. E.)

Apretty village with half-timber work, has a restored church of no interest.

NEWBOLD VERDON

(Desford, 3 m. W.)

Is a dull, brick village with nothing picturesque except its name. It was at one time the abode of Lady Mary Wortley Montague, though whether at the "Queen Anne" Hall, which still exists, or at the destroyed manor house is uncertain. The rebuilt church retains two windows in the N.aisle of the old building, and the base of its mean tower is early, perhaps Norman.

OSBASTON

(Market Bosworth, 3 m. N.)

Has a fine brick Hall, TEMP. William III or Anne; the church has been long destroyed.

REF:

~~HARVEY & BEYNON~~ ~~Leicestershire & Rutland~~. (~~The Little Guide Series~~).

Harvey A. & Gowther-Beynon V.B. 1924 2nd. ed. Leicestershire & Rutland (The Little Guide Series)