Mr Sneap call'd on Mr Pares the titular Lord of the Manor, in expectation of receiving a large addition to the above subscription. — Mr Pares desired him to call again, at the same time expressing a desire that Meat might be bought with part of the money; as expending the money wholly on bread at this scarce period would be still advancing the price of Flour. —

At a vestry meeting - the Clergyman with the rest was agreeable to the above request as soon as Mr Pares should pay his subscription. — But tho Mr Pares gave the advice - tho the Real subscribers were willing to agree with it - yet Mr Pares did not subscribe a farthing. — His rents from this Parish amount to nearly 700 £. p[r]. annum. ———
