Description of remains, precise location and stratification (attach plans if necessary)

The field had only been rough ploughed; not ideal conditions for field walking as the dry condition of the plough soil made it difficult to see any pot etc lying on the surface. Only ~~two~~ one pieces of interesting pottery was found, a small sherd of R/B 'grey ware' with two parallel incised lines across it. Also found was a waste flint flake with some secondary work along two edges.*

Both finds were immediatly to the East of the rectangular crop mark.

* This is a "Pot Lid" naturally fractured from a larger piece of flint but there is some suggestion of blunting of the edges which looks to be worked by human hand'

Conclusions: further field walking required. (see next sheet)
